

FILOFAX.

2024 COLLECTION

Committed to making a difference

Here at Filofax, we care about the environment and always look for new ways to minimise the impact of our operations, both at our manufacturing facility located in the UK, and within our global supply chain.

When it comes to quality, each of our products are made to last. Simply refresh the fill inside to stay updated throughout the years.

The paper we use comes from sustainable, well-managed and certified sources. In addition, we are members of the Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) and support their principles. From 2023, most of our Filofax dated refills will be marked with the famous FSC™ logo, certifying that we are using paper from sustainably managed forests. We only work with suppliers complying with the highest environmental standards.

The leathers used in Filofax leather products are by-products of the food industry and we do not use hides from animals that are bred specifically for leather production. We are also ever-mindful of the use of harmful chemicals and dyes.

We pride ourselves in our continued development of our recyclable packaging as we strive to improve our processes and materials to make our product range as sustainably efficient as possible.

In line with our commitment to protecting the environment, we create collections such as Eco Essential, our specifically eco-friendly collection, featuring organiser covers crafted with vegan, 100% cellulose fibre material. As well as a new line of recycled paper refills in our Classic Style.
